Doings before Justice Ouborne.—The Police office was rather void of interest yesterday, at the watch returns The first prisoner brought before the magistrate was a white woman called Catharine Riley, who had the honer of being the beloved wife of a colored gentleman who was in court anxiously awaiting the decision of the Justice, which would either consign his fair beloved to the Tombs or restore her to the arms of her dark companion. She was brought fin by officer Munson, on a charge of violently assaulting a black man called Joseph Jacobs, striking him on the left eye a violent blow with a carturn, knocking him down insensible, inflicting a severe cut on the cheek, which the poor darkey had bound up with a pocket handkerchief, and his face looked as long as a sick monkey's in a cage, from the effects of the wound. Manistant Catharine?

Jo-Judge, I din't know wedder dis woman did anything or not; all cis child knows, is what he's got on him's face.

Maciarnate—Officer, have you any witness who saw the assault?

OFFICER—No, sir.
"Then" said the Justice, "Catharine you can go, as no evidence is here to warrant my locking you up."
The next prisoner was an Irishwoman called Julia Robinson, who was brought in by a pollowman on a charge of striking a man by the name of Thomas Cronam, on the bead, with a flat iron, with such violence, that the man was carried off to the City Hospital, insensible.
MACGETRATE.—Well, Julia, what do you say to this charge?

Julia.—Oh! Musher! musher! dear Judge; sure and I didn't kill the man; indeed, your worship, they have been killing one another all through the house; and this man came into the house, in my room, drunk, and called my old man a son ——, and many other names, which I don't like to say before the presence of your honor. Look, your honor, where the villain bit my hand. Oh, had luck to him.

Masternarus—This man, it appears, is dangerously hurt, and I must bold you until we hear more about him; he may possibly die, which will place you in a very awkward position. Take her down to prison, officer.

The balance of the prisoners consisted of six vagrants, who were each favored with six months imprisonment on Blackwell's island.

Charge of Grand Larceny.—Two black fellows entered the dwelling house No 98 12th street, occupied by Mr. Cook. on Tussday evening, seined four overcoats and ran off, pursued by Mr. Cook, who chased one up an alley way close by, when the rascal jumped over a back fence and ran into 13th street, and was subsequently arrested by officer Moore, of the 15th ward police, whose attention was drawn to the alarm given by Mr. Cook.

The four coats, it appears, were worth $60. The rascal gave his name as William Amos, and Justice Merritt looked him up for trial.

Hall Thicees on the Increase.—The entry thieves appear to be on the increase, as the halls of dwelling house. No. 436 Fearl street, was entered by some thief, and three overcoats, valued at $90, carried off. The house No. 210 Clinton street was robbed of an overcoat, valued at $90, carried off. Gold Pens ... Cantlon ... The Richelleu Dia Gold Pens...Caution....The Hichellen Dia-mond Pointed Gold Pens are made and sold exclusively by B. E. Watson & Co. 45 William street, and J. Y. Savage, 92 Fulton at The Richelieus are sold with an unlimited gua-rantee; and if, at any time, the points come off, or it proves, in any other way, in the slightest degree, unsatisfactory, it will be taken back, and a new pen given, without extra charge. Gold Pens at wholesale and retail. Gold Fens from 54-cents to $2 each. Gold Pens repaired or exchanged...—N. B. The public are cautioned against spurious imitations, and are requested to compare the writing qualities of the "Richelieu" Pens with any $3 pen in the market.

Gold Pens...J. W. Greaton & Co., No. 71 Cedar street, up stars. Still at their old stand, notwithstanding the false assertion of other parties, by which the inference would be drawn that they had removed. They have recently made great improvements in the style of their pens and cases, and are now selling the most splendid articles that can be found in the market, at reduced prices. Gold Pens and Cases at 75c. $1, $1.25, $1.00, $1.75, $2, and upwards. They sell superior pens at lower prices than others are asking for their rejected pens.

Gold Pens at Reduced Prices.—The great reduction of 50 cents in the price of Gold Pens, just made by Beers & Clark, 25 John street, (up stairs,) seems not at all to please some of their rivals; but we can assure them that their customers like it. We know of no good reason why we should be compelled to pay such enormous prices for gold pens. Why should the profits on their manufacture and sale be so much more than on other articles? With the low prices of Beers & Clerk, the gold pen will soon come into general use, and all dealers in the article will gain by the increased demand more than they can lose by reducing prices.

Fishing and Hunting Boots, an improved article.—The Goodyear Rubber Warehouse, 100 Broadway, opposite Trinity Church, has on hand a large supply of Fishing and Sportsa fair Soots, a very superior article, at reduced prices. No person, whose vocation requires him to be much in the water, should be without them Also, the unchangeable Gloss Overshoe, and a new style of Overshoe of surprising finish and durability. This warehouse has no connection with any other concern in this city.

$1000 Reward...New York Savings Bank, No. 4 Ann st., near the Museum, you can get the best Boots, for the price, ever sold, and it is astonishing what a great business Jones has got, by selling Boots at anch remarkably low prices; and he sells for cash, with a very small profit, and is destined to do more business than all the rest of the atores in New York, and the time is not far distant when Jones' little store, at No. 4 Ann st. will fulfil the above without a doubt.

COMMERCIAL AFFAIRS.

MONEY MARKET.

Wednesday, Feb. 16. There was quite an improvement in the stock market to day. Nearly every fancy in the list advanced, and there was considerable activity among operators. At the first board, Reading Railroad went up % per cent; Harlem 1%; Norwich and Worcester 1; Long Island %; Canton 1; Farmer's Loan %; North American Trust %; Illinois Fundable Bonds 1%; Illinois Bends, 1847, 1. Treasury Notes were firm at par.

At the second board, prices were about the same as those current in the morning, and the sales were only to a moderate extent.

The advance in prices, and the activity in the market, to-day, were attributed to the announcement made that the agent of the Rothschilds, in this city, had signified a disposition to take the loan of sixteen millions of dollars, required by the government. This has, no doubt, been the cause of the improvement in prices, as there are many who have confidence in the negotiation of such a loan. Similar reports were put in circulation previous to the disposal of the last loan, in April, 1847, and it may be that there is as much truth in this report, as there was in that of last year. There is, nevertheless. a possibility of some truth in the rumer now, which did not exist before. Within the past year, great and important changes have been realized in the financia, policy and position of the country. We have, it is true, become more largely indebted, but we have shown to the world that the government possesses a strength never before known, that the country is more consolidated than ever before believed, that even in the midst o war of invasion, the prosperity of all classes at home has been preserved, and the resources of the country mere rapidly developed. Within the past two years events have transpired in the United States, which have raised the credit of the government at home, and must have had a very great influence abroad. The progress of the Mexican war has been closely watched by the governments of Europe, and the large capitalists of the old world have been astonished at the result of our movements. We have established a character in the world ments. We have established a character in the world as a military people, superior to that created by the two wars previously engaged in. We have taken a higher rank among the nations of the earth, and our institutions and system of government are much better known now, than they were a few years since. This has been accomplished principally by the Mexican war; and for this alone, it has been worth to the country all the treasure it has cost. The statesmen of Europe has been lamantable ignorant of the form of savern. have been lamentably ignorant of the form of govern-ment upon which this republic is based; and until very lately the sovereignty of States and the independence of the general government, has been an enigms to them. European capitalists have heretofore loaned immense sums of money to our States, with the most indefinite idea of the resources of each, but with the impression that the general government was responsible for all. The immense loans to our States originated with the Rothschilds. It appears that house perfected an extensive plan for the sale of American State stocks in the principal cities of Europe, and in the full belief that a andsome advance would be realized, they made large loans. An agent was despatched to the continenta cities for the sale of these stocks, and the head of the house in London, on 'Change, daily advised every one having money to invest, to put it in State stocks. Whewhether his object was solely to dispose of his stock at an advance, is not known; but the probability is that he wished to get rid of his stock and pocket the profits. Not having been successful in their arrangements, and having on hand an immense amount of State securities when Mississippi repudiated, the house of Rothschilds were ers, and their confidence in State stocks be eams much impaired. They have until very recently harge?

| been very shy of American securities; but within the Julia.—Oh! Musher! musher! dear Judge; sure and past year or two the attention of foreign capitalists has ments have been made in them. They have lately become better acquainted with the relative position of the general and State governments, and have more confi-dence in the resources and credit of the general govern-ment than ever before. It is a matter of much astonishment that they should have been so ignorant so long, but it is yet time to redeem themselves. The attention of European capitalists has been directed to this country, on account of the evidences which have developed themselves relative to the peace of Europe, and the probabilities of a rupture or revolution threatening the downfall of some of the governments and the extermi-nation of their debts. It is the fear of something of this kind which has turned the eyes of capitalists to the United States for the investment of their funds. We have no revolutions in this country; our peace does not de-

The annual report of the Utica and Schenetady Railroad Company, for the year 1847, exhibits a very flat-tering statement of the fluancial affairs of that concern. It is the most productive railroad in the State, and is equal to any in the country. Its dividends have averaged about ten per cent per annum, and itestock ranges from fifteen to twenty per cent above par. A loan to our government is the safest investment that can be made, and the sooner European capitalists satisfy themselves of the fact, the better for their interests. The Rothschilds, with their usual foresight, see this, and may avail themselves of this opportunity. As we should want a part of this loan in Mexico, where the lothschilds have, no doubt, a large sum of money, which they cannot use or get out of the country, it will be a good chance for them to make it available

THIRD CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT.—THIRD Ward—At a large and enthusansie meeting of the Democracy, held on Wednesdar evening, Feb. 18th. at 217 Washington street, in pursuance of the recommendation and authority of the Democratic State Conventions, held at Synciae and Albany, to elect three delegates to a district convention to be held at 58 deckman street, ou the 17th instant, for the purpose of choosing a delegate to the Baltimore convention, to nominate suitable candidates for the offices of Positions and Vice President and Albany, to the United States, William H. Bolton was appointed Chairman, and S. H. Brauch, Secretary, when Stephes H. Brauch, Fatrick Clarke, and Joseph W. Bouck, were elected as such delegates. On motion, a committee of three was appointed to draft resolutions, which were unanimously adopted. Resolved, That we repudiate the action of the general committee in calling meetings to send delegates to the Utica convention in direct violation of the direction of the State central committee in calling meetings to send delegates to the Utica convention in direct violation of the direction of the State central committee and the usages of the Democratic party. Resolved, That we are for posed to the so-called Wilmot Proviso being made a party test among Democrats, and we demounce those disorganizing conspirators who met at Herkimer to lay that corner stone, as factious and disappounted office reekers, whose maxim is rule or rule, and whose recent beling defeated the Democratic party at the late election. Besolved, That we, the radical Democracy of the Third Ward, do adher's firmly to the district system of elections at well in National as in State conventions, believing it to be the democratic method, which will prevent wire publics and confined the selection of Francis B. FOURTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT—AT A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Democratic Republican Electors of the Fourth Congressional District, held at the house of Daniel Hughes, Democratic Head Quarters. 159 Madison street, on Wednesday evening, Feb. 16, 1849. William W. Fream was unanimously chosen President, Thomas Mehan, Algeron S Jarvia, Asshell keed, and Fatrick Burke, Vice Presidents, and Peter U. Garritt and William Nealis, were appointed Secretaries. On motion, the call of the meeting was read and approved. On motion of Matthew Murray, Esq. Edmund S. Driggs was nominated as the delegate to the National Convention at Baltimore, which was approved by acclamation without a dissecting voice. On motion, the meeting cordially and unanimously responded to the nomination of Alexander F. Vache as the Elector of President and Vice President, to represent this District in the Electoral College of this State. On motion, the following persons were appointed a committee on resolutions—Henry Hilton, Matthew H. Spittle, Feter Parks and John Bridy, who reported the following: Resolved, that we most cordially approve of the proceedings of the regular democratic State convention at Albany—that they exhibit to the world true democratic principles and doctrues, and commend themselves to the enlightened judgment of all sincere republicans. That we utterly condemn the conduct and principles of the Wilmon proviso faction; their principles are old federal principles, and their conduct is a copy of the conduct of the old federalist during the last war, and that they properly belong to that party, and are fast tending to a union with it. That the district system of choosing delegates is the democratic system, and that we see in the course of its poponents another evidence of inherent federalism, by an adherence to a central power. That the true democratic party is a progressive party, and diseards all abuses or expediencies; that it conforms itself to sound pregressive action; that it is partioric, and sustricting indemnity to su
